Biography

After entering Sichuan University, he was selected to enter the Cyberspace security Excellent Talent Class. In the first year, he won the national scholarship and the annual first-class scholarship of Sichuan University. In the daily courses, he answered the teacher's questions, and participated in classroom interaction actively. At the same time, he usually served as team leaders of the course projects in professional courses, exercising his project management ability and team cooperation ability. In the process of project report, he always took the responsibility of reporting on his own initiative, which greatly improved his ability of expression.

He has participated in the research group of teachers and done some research yet. In Prof. Cheng Huang's research group, he has done some research about malicious code detection (one paper was completed and submitted to a academic conference). The research on Federal Learning was conducted in the research group of Beibei Li (three papers were completed). During his research experiences, he has cultivated his own research skills and habits, and enhanced the academic reading ability.
